Privacy Policy

COMMITMENT TO PRIVACY chamberlainstore.com is hosted and operated by Lake County Press, Inc. Lake County Press, Inc. understands the importance of protecting the privacy of its users. By using the chamberlainstore.com website ("Site"), you agree to the collection and use of your information in accordance with this Privacy Policy. If you do not agree with the terms of this Privacy Policy, please do not use the Site.

Visitor Information

The chamberlainstore.com web server uses an extended log file format which captures: date and time of visit, referring address (location from which a visitor comes to the Site), type of Internet browser, and visitor’s IP address. (Each computer that connects to the Internet is assigned a unique number, an IP address, for identification purposes). The log file does not capture a visitor's email address.

Personal and Business Information

Certain areas of the Site ask for personal information (such as your name, address, email address and telephone number) and business information (such as business name, address and telephone number). Lake County Press, Inc. only collects personal and business information that you voluntarily provide to us, such as when you make a purchase or request a quote. You have the ability to access and change the personal and business information which you have provided to Lake County Press, Inc. by use of the appropriate features on the Site.

The Site is not intended for use by children. Lake County Press, Inc. will not knowingly collect any personal information from visitors to the Site who are under the age of 13.

Financial Information

When you make a purchase on the Site, we request that you provide financial information, such as account or credit card numbers. By making a purchase on the Site, you consent to our providing your financial information to our services providers and such third parties as we determine is necessary to process your transaction, such as credit card companies and banking institutions used to process the transaction.

Use of Information

The information collected on the Site is used to process requests, to fulfill orders, for customer service, to market and improve Lake County Press, Inc. products and services, to customize your experience on the Site, and to contact you with updates to the Site and other information. Lake County Press, Inc. may also use your information to provide you with information we believe may be of interest to you. If you do not wish to receive marketing information, email us at unsubscribe@lakecountypress.com. Email messages will also provide you with an opportunity to opt-out of receiving this information. Please note, changes to your preference may not be effective immediately.
Our policy is to never give, sell or otherwise distribute the information collected through this Site to third parties outside of Lake County Press, Inc. and its subsidiaries (unless you allow us to or required by law); provided, however, in some cases we may use suppliers to assist us in collecting, using or otherwise processing for our benefit the information obtained through this site. For example, Lake County Press, Inc. uses an outside credit card processing company to bill users for goods and services. Our practice is to require our suppliers and vendors to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with this policy and our requirements.

We will only use your financial information to bill you for products and services or otherwise process your transactions.

If Lake County Press, Inc. is sold to or merges with another company, or if we declare bankruptcy, some or all of the information collected from you may be transferred to a third party as a result of the transfer of assets. Lake County Press, Inc. may also disclose your information when we determine it is necessary to comply with applicable laws or to protect our interests and safety and those of other visitors to the Site.

Information From Third Parties

If necessary, Lake County Press, Inc. obtains consumer information from third-party providers in order to improve the accuracy of our customer database and to increase our understanding of our customers or to identify potential customers. For example, we get updated addresses from the National Change of Address (NCOA) service to assist us in having the correct addresses for our customers.

Cookies

A cookie is a series of data characters that, when programmed into a website, is placed by the web server into the browser's application folder on your computer. Once placed onto your machine, the cookie will allow the website to "recognize" you as a unique individual. Lake County Press, Inc. uses cookies to personalize information for certain segments of its customer base. In some instances, cookies are also used to associate individual customers with their information profiles. For example, through the use of cookies, Lake County Press, Inc. can "remember" your user ID when you login to chamberlainstore.com on your computer. Should you choose to do so, cookies can be removed from your hard drive and certain web browsers can be set so that cookies are not used or saved. Please check with your browser provider for more information on removing cookies.

Links

The Site may contain links to other websites. Please be aware that we are not responsible for the privacy practices of such other sites. We encourage our users to be aware of this fact when they leave our website and to read the privacy statements of each and every website that they visit which collects personally-identifiable information. This privacy statement applies solely to information collected on the Site.
Security

Lake County Press, Inc. has security measures in place to protect customer information. Lake County Press, Inc. takes reasonable precautions to protect against the loss, misuse and unauthorized access of your personal information under our control. Because the security of your personal information is a high priority, we have taken numerous steps to ensure that it is processed confidentially, accurately and securely. The Site uses encryption technology, such as Secure Socket Layer (SSL) technology, which is supported by the vast majority of modern Internet browsers. SSL technology represents the highest level of security available on the Internet, automatically encrypting information traveling over the Internet, verifying the identity of the transacting servers through certificates and digital signatures, and confirming that the integrity of the message content is maintained throughout its transmission. Unfortunately, no data transmission over the Internet can be guaranteed to be 100% secure. As a result, while Lake County Press, Inc. is committed to protecting your information, we cannot ensure or warrant the security of any information you transmit to us.
